

St Annes Beach April 2026

Fourteen of us met up outside the Offshore on a bright but very chilly morning and set off up the beach towards Fairhaven. Showers were forecast; if we wanted to avoid them (for once!), we needed to be off! We dodged the cruel wind by dropping down onto the path around Fairhaven Lake and admired the beautiful wildflowers and the birdlife with which the area was teeming. We continued over the golf course, the sky growing ever darker, but the conversation flowed and our cheerful band made excellent time back through town, to return for a hearty lunch at the aforementioned Offshore. As we tucked in, the heavens opened! Another bullet dodged!
